FATHER SHOOTS CHILD WALKING IN SLEEP.

One of the most deplorable accidents that ever happened in Paris occurred at an early hour Saturday morning, resulting in an eight-year-old boy being badly disfigured, even if the physicians succeed in saving his life.

James R. Clough, an employee of the Louisville & Nashville road, residing on Scott avenue, was awakened about two o'clock by his wife, who told him some one was on the back porch endeavoring to open the kitchen door. Mr. Clough arose and placing a shell in a shotgun, demanded to know who was at the door. Repeating the demand and receiving no reply, he fired at the door, which was being slowly opened. To his horror he heard a voice which he recognized as that of his eight-year-old son, exclaiming: "Oh, daddy, you have shot me!" The little fellow had been walking in his sleep, and had gone outside the house without awakening his parents, and was returning when his mother heard him opening the door.

The shot took effect on the right side of the face, tearing out the right eye, and badly mutilating the face. He was rushed to the Masonic Memorial Hospital, where it was said yesterday that he had a chance for recovery. The boy's parents are overcome with grief over the unfortunate occurrence.

PROMINENT CAPITALISTS WANT TO BUILD NEW HOTEL.

Not only those harbingers of commerce, the traveling men, and the transients who make Paris often, but staid old business men have often remarked the need of an up-to-date hotel for Paris. The scheme has been broached a number of times, and a number of available sites selected for the prospective new hostelry, but nothing came of it.

Five of the wealthiest and most prominent business men of the city and the county were at luncheon at the Stout Cafe yesterday, when after discussing a number of subjects, one of the number remarked:

"Say, men, don't you know I have been thinking for some time, that with all the ready money there is in Paris and Bourbon county, it is a shame that the city hasn't one really up-to-date hotel? I am going to make a proposition to you fellows, and see what will come of it. If we can secure a suitable site for it let's get up a big company, not on paper, but a really sure-enough one, with the ready money back of them, and give this old town a good hotel. It certainly needs it bad enough. There is every argument in favor of it, and the money would not be hard to raise at the present time. I propose that we see what we can do with the project."

And then he went on into detail, with the result that the other four capitalists became enthusiastic over the matter, and agreed to put up a large amount of cash as their share in the venture. It was agreed that the hostelry should cost not less than $150,000, and that as soon as the money had been raised and the site secured the work should begin.

The men who indulged in the discussion are not given to joking, being men of good judgment and business acumen, and it is probable that at last a movement may be started that will result in Paris having a modern hotel that will be an ornament to the town and a money-maker to the promoters.

BEST FENCE IN THE WORLD: BIG STOCK AT LOWRY & MAY'S

The following Bourbon county women are in Ashland to-day as representatives from the different Clubs of the county to the meeting of the State Federation of Clubs, which begins there to-day: Mrs. Frank P. Lowry, Mrs. James McClure and Miss Elizabeth Grimes, from the Paris Literary Club; Mrs. Fannie Bell Sutherland, representing the City Federation of Clubs; Mrs. Allie Smith Dixon and Mrs. John T. Collins, from the North Middletown Womens Club.

The Paris Oil Exchange, which was opened in the Price building about six weeks ago, by parties who are operating similar enterprises in Winchester and Mt. Sterling, has closed its business here. The room has been taken over by a number of oil companies doing business in Paris and will be fitted up as office room. The companies to be represented in the move are the Parboken, the Lane, the Old Rosebud, the Associated Oil Royalties, and the Greater Kentucky Petroleum Co.

The Carlisle Mercury has the following:

"Over in Paris they organize a new oil company about every other night—and Carlisle buys the stock."

"It has been suggested that if the growth of ten cent oil companies continue, the mint may have difficulty in coining money fast enough to keep pace with the number of stock certificates. In that case, certificates will have to serve as legal tender, and the sight of a man laying in provisions and paying for bacon and beans with oil stock will become common. Truly, they'll have to get a hustle on up at Washington."

Selecting the musical-sounding name of the Little Banjo Oil and Gas Co., a new-comer in the local field is the organization by that name, which effected an organization Friday by electing the following officers and Board of Directors: President, Judge George Batterton; vice-president, James H. Moreland; secretary, John Mattox; treasurer, Silas E. Bedford; field manager, James H. Moreland. The directorate is composed of the following: R. H. Wills, Ira Parks, C. D. Wilson, E. B. Myers, J. L. Denton, H. S. Redmon, J. H. Moreland, Thos. McDonald, James H. Moreland. The Company has holdings of 1,250 acres on Newcome Creek, in Elliott county, surrounded on all sides by production. There is on the property a thirty-five barrel oil well and a gas well with a capacity of 1,000,000 cubic feet daily.

The present issue of the 10 cent stock of the Lane Oil Company is practically sold out. If you will read their prospectus you will want some of this stock. Better put in your application NOW if you want to get in on the ground floor. (1t)

TO KEEP SOLDIERS BUSY.

When seventy-three soldiers came home to Butler County, Ky., the city of Morgantown, of course, celebrated. After the shouting was over, the county agent got the boys together to talk over things quietly. In writing about this meeting, the agent said:

"I called the soldier boys together and talked to them of an organization of some kind to work for better methods of farming, better social conditions and better citizenship for the county."

SHADES OF THE IMMORTAL DANIEL.

A good test question in a general knowledge examination paper for English college students, or for the new House of Commons, would be, Name three United States Senators, with the States they represent in Congress. The number of people able to score a full mark would be distressingly small. The truth is, one suspects, that the American Senate, or the French, does not exist for the ordinary Englishman, even when his education has been, as things go, pretty good. The man with a little knowledge of American history may have dim memory of a past Senator or two—Charles Summers, say, and Richard Webster.

AND WILLIAM I CONTINUES TO GAZE DOWN STREAM

Anyone who wishes to indulge in a soliloquy on the rise and fall of empire should visit Coblenz and walk down to the banks of the Rhine. Where the Moselle meets the Rhine, there stands a famous statue of Emperor William I, a huge equestrian figure. Plumed, booted and spurred, William sits on his horse in true Hohenzollern fashion and gazes down the great river, which, swollen by the waters of the Moselle, whirls in a thousand eddies towards the sea. On the massive pedestal which supports the statue is an inscription which, for sheer irony, surely is unequalled.

Finding the old-fashioned lettering difficult to decipher, we approached an official. He was an old man, obviously an old soldier, but though his beard was gray, he was straight as a ramrod, and his blue uniform spotless. He drew himself to attention, and as if repeating the central fact of his faith, uttered these words:

"Nimmer wird das reich zerstört wenn ihr eing seid und treu."

("Never will the empire be destroyed if you remain united and true.")

Then he turned on his heel and walked away.

Immediately under a statue a woman surrounded by a crowd of khaki-clad figures was doing a roaring trade in imitation iron crosses, and up the Rhine came four large river steamers. They had paddle-wheels and two funnels, and their German names were painted in bold letters. From end to end they were packed with American soldiers. On the bridge an American officer stood side by side with the German skipper. The military band played in the bows of each ship, and from the stern flew the Stars and Stripes. The bridge swung slowly open to allow this strange flotilla to pass through on its way to Bingen.

And William I still gazed down the river, an American flag floated in the breeze on Ehrenbreitstein, and on the quay a crowd of German bourgeoisie, clad in Sunday garments, surveyed this amazing scene with no apparent emotion.

Yet perhaps if one could penetrate that stolid exterior, one might find that the old soldier was not alone in the bitterness of his soul.

SHEEP LOSSES TO BE PAID IN FULL.

In construing part of the new dog law Attorney General D. C. Wyatt gave his opinion to Commissioner of Agriculture Cohen, informing him that all valid subsisting claims under the old dog law were to be provided for under the new act and were to be paid in full. The opinion in part says:

The assistant attorney general is of the opinion that the 1918 claims must be paid in full even if it takes all of the 1919 taxes for this purpose.

The question arose in Madison county, where 4,000 sheep claims are pending for 1918 with $1,350 in the dog fund for the same year. The dog fund for that county for 1919 amounts to $1,700 and it will take both funds to pay the claims, and the total fund will hardly cover the amount due on the claims. Commissioner Cohen did not know whether the claims should be paid in full or prorated as provided under the old dog law.

UNITED WAR WORK COLLECTIONS.

Kentucky stands above the average of the 14 States comprising the Central Army Department in the collections of the United War Work Campaign Fund.

On May 20, according to the latest figures reached by H. S. Tucker, State Collector of the fund, 85 per cent. of the $2,214,967 subscribed, had been collected. The average for the Central Army Department States is about 82 per cent. Kentucky is among the leaders in the amount collected.

Thirty-three counties in Kentucky, 28 per cent. of the total, have paid their pledges in full. The honor list is:

Adair, Allen, Anderson, Boyd, Bracken, Breathitt, Breckinridge, Bullitt, Butler, Clinton, Cumberland, Elliott, Fleming, Fulton, Grant, Grayson, Green, Harlan, Hickman, Johnson, LaRue, Leslie, Lyon, McCreary, Magoffin, Marion, Metcalfe, Monroe, Owen, Powell, Robertson, Union, Webster.

Thirty-five other counties have collected 90 per cent. or more of the total—that is, 68 counties out of the 120 in the State, or 56 per cent.—have paid 90 per cent. or more of their subscriptions.

Only seven counties in the State have failed to pay less than half of the amount subscribed.

In the universities, colleges, etc., of the State, 13 have paid their subscriptions in full. They are, Millersburg Academy, Millersburg College, Baptist Women's Mission School, Kentucky Military College, Villa Madonna Academy, Union College, Loretto College, St. Mary's College, Nazareth Literary Institute, Langdon School, St. Vincent's College, Cumberland College, and Kentucky Female College. Sixty-five per cent. of the amount subscribed has been paid.

Eleven schools have added to their payments since the last report in March. They are, Lindsay-Wilson, Kentucky College for Women, Transylvania, University of Louisville, Sue Bennett Memorial, Bethel, Logan, Berea and Lincoln Institute. Of a total subscription of $32,350, nearly $21,150 has been paid in.

R. M. CALDWELL.

The election for voting on the consolidated school at Millersburg was called off a few days ago, when a compromise was reached between the opposing factions. All have agreed to cut out the consolidated school.

A tax of 25 cents on the hundred will be voted on in August for the purpose of giving Millersburg a better building on more appropriate grounds.

The High School will be continued and Millersburg will have a public school system second to none in Kentucky. While the consolidated school is lost, those who have contended for a better school in Millersburg have been victorious, and the agitation will take the Graded School building from its present location and place a better building on more suitable grounds. This is but the beginning of larger and better things for Millersburg along the line of graded and high school work, and those who stood firmly for a better school for Millersburg are to be congratulated.

OLEIKA TEMPLE SHRINERS' CEREMONIAL AT LEXINGTON.

More than 400 Shriners from the four temples of the State attended the Summer Ceremonial of the Oleika Temple, in Lexington, Friday. A class of eighty was taken "over the hot sands of Mecca," in the ceremonies beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The ceremonies were begun at two o'clock, and lasted until nearly six o'clock with Potentate Theo. S. Jones presiding. A banquet at the Phoenix Hotel at which there was an attendance of 580 Shriners and their guests was one of the features of the day's program. Past Potentate Charles Harris, of Versailles, who recently became Lieutenant Governor, Sam Daley, of Lexington, and Brown Y. Willis, of Nicholasville, were the speakers at the banquet. Noble Clay Sutherland, of Paris, and Miss Jane Logan, of Lexington, sang, accompanied at the piano by Miss Narcie Polk, instructor at Hamilton College. The banquet was followed by a dance in Fraternity Hall, in Masonic Temple.

Shriners were present from El Husa Temple, Ashland, Kosair Temple, Louisville, Mizpah Temple, Madisonville and Oleika Temple, Lexington.

Most of the candidates were from Central Kentucky. Mrs. Guy Johnson was in charge of the entertainment of the women of the delegation during their stay in the city.

WORDS OF WISDOM FROM AN OLD HEAD.

We've often wanted to say it, but just couldn't get it framed up right, but now Editor James M. Allen puts it into the very rightest kind of language, in his excellent paper, The Cynthiana Democrat, thusly:

"Get it out of your head that country newspapers need 'something to fill up.' There might have been a time when such a 'long felt want' existed, but never again! The problem these days is for country newspapers to find room for the legitimate news and advertisements that must run. This reflection is occasioned by a man's bringing The Democrat, the other day, a list of several hundred signatures to a certain road subscription fund, with the suggestion that perhaps we should like to print it in order to 'fill up.' Cut 'em down, men—condense; nix on the 'fill up'!"

IMPROVEMENT NOTES.

Construction work has begun on the new addition to the Geo. W. Davis undertaking establishment, at the corner of Pleasant and Fifth streets. The new addition will be of brick, two stories, and will provide a great amount of additional garage room for the establishment.

A new roof is being placed on the building at the corner of Main and Sixth streets, occupied by the Farmers & Traders Bank, the David Feld store and the Paris Rocket Store.

SALES OF THE BARNES FUND GROWING

(Stanford Interior-Journal.)

The Interior-Journal management is much gratified at the growth of the Barnes Monument Fund since the list was last published. Friends of the good evangelist are beginning to realize what they have neglected so long and are making amends by responding liberally to the fund to place a monument over the graves of Rev. and Mrs. George O. Barnes

in Bellevue Cemetery, Danville. It is hoped that at least $1,000 may be raised for the purpose. As to the design of the monument, it need have no fears about Miss Marie Barnes co-operating with them as to the design. In other words, let every friend of the late "Brother Barnes" as he was affectionately called, contribute a small amount to the fund—the design can be decided upon later.

JEFFERSON HAD A DRILL

The farmer of to-day, who can buy implements for almost any kind of farm work, can hardly realize how much thought the farmer of a century ago had to put on farm machinery. That Thomas Jefferson, who was intensely interested in better farming, gave much time and attention to improved machinery can be seen from the following extract from a letter written to Mr. John Taylor in 1808:

"Your ingenious friend, Mr. Mar-very fine construction. I am very desirous of sending one of them to the Agricultural Society of Paris, with whom I am in correspondence, and who are sending me a plow sup-

KENTUCKY TREE SEEDS TO BE SENT TO EUROPE.

The American Forestry Association will endeavor to provide France, Great Britain and Belgium with American forest tree seed to replace the devastated forest regions of war stricken countries.

Various States of the Union have been asked to furnish seed and Kentucky has agreed to furnish fifty pounds of pin oak, one hundred pounds of red oak, twenty-five pounds of sugar maple, and twenty-five pounds of silver maple.

The seeds for Kentucky's pro rata will be gathered this fall under the supervision of J. E. Barton, commissioner of forestry and geology.

OUR BOUNDARY CLASHES

The first of a number of treaties between the United States and Great Britain in regard to the boundary between the States and Canada was signed ninety-eight years ago. It was provided that the international line should be along forty-ninth parallel from the Lake of the Woods to the Rocky Mountains, and that the territory west of the Rockies should be free and open to the people of both nations for ten years. Both nations claimed the country now comprising the States of Washington and Oregon, but in 1816 neither considered the ownership of any importance. Another boundary treaty was signed in 1827, but the most important were those of 1842 and 1846. The Maine boundary question, a bone of contention since 1783, had at times reached the point of armed clashes. The treaty finally settling the matter gave 7,000 square miles of disputed territory to Maine and 5,000 miles to New Brunswick. The Oregon boundary dispute also reached an acute stage prior to 1846, when by treaty the larger and richer portion went to the United States. In all of these disputes the United States was aggressive, while Britain adopted a conciliatory policy.

THE FISHING CURE.

What the whole world needs now is the fishing cure. There is no other balm so effectual for strained nerves and wearied souls. Fishing is said to encourage falsehood, but we believe that is a slander invented by would-be humorists who never fish except for stale jokes. On the contrary, it encourages nearly all of the virtues. It's difficult to conceive of a true fisherman who is not a philosopher and a good citizen. Let's halt the world's business and go a-fishing. It is a sure cure for that tired, worried feeling.

ELECTRICS WILL LINK LOUISVILLE AND BLUEGRASS.

Lexington and all Central Kentucky will be connected with Louisville by interurban by January 1, it was stated by F. W. Hinkle, of Louisville, who, as secretary of the Frankfort-Shelbyville Electric Railway Company, declared plans have been perfected for building the link of twenty-one miles from Frankfort to Shelbyville.

President J. R. Downing will urge the directors of the Lexington Board of Commerce to give the project their hearty co-operation and that this will be done is certain. Hinkle stated that a mass meeting will be held at Shelbyville to arrange for Shelby county's subscription to the fund necessary to build the link. A similar meeting will also be held at Frankfort this week. Hinkle said the right of way has been secured and options taken on the steel rails, ties and trolley wires.

Three steel bridges are to span the streams to be crossed by the line from Frankfort to Shelbyville. Arrangements have also been made with the Kentucky Traction and Terminal Company for supplying the rolling stock for the connecting link. The new line will mean as much to Louisville as it will to Central Kentucky. The people have long favored such a project.

LEXINGTON TO GET 154 ROAD TRUCKS.

One hundred and fifty-four army trucks that have been turned over to the Department of Agriculture by the War Department soon will be used for road building in Kentucky.

This fact was announced by Assistant Attorney General D. O. Myatt, of Clinton, following a conference with Department of Agriculture officials.

The trucks, valued at $500,000, will be shipped to Kentucky in a few weeks.

It has not been determined, according to Myatt, in what counties these trucks will be employed in highway construction work.

COUNTY BOARD ORDERS ELECTION FOR N. M. TOWN GRADED SCHOOL

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT TO MEMORY OF JOHN J. MCCLINTOCK.

At a meeting of the County Board of Education, held yesterday morning in the office of County Superintendent of Schools J. B. Caywood, and called by him, the Board, in answer to a petition signed by the required number of citizens of the North Middletown precinct, unanimously approved the request for an election to be held for the purpose of establishing a Graded School in North Middletown. The election will be held soon, as the required legal advertising has been carried out, and proper notice given to the voters of the precinct.

It was stated yesterday that if plans now maturing go through the North Middletown Business and been one of the leading educational and the building and grounds converted into a public Graded School. This institution has for many years been one of the leading educational enterprises of the county. North Middletown is isolated from railroads, being twelve miles from Paris, Mt. Sterling and Carlisle, making it difficult for students from a distance to attend. It will require a vote of the people of the community to make the change, as the College is private property. Mr. Henry S. Caywood and Dr. Lee R. Henry, of North Middletown, were in consultation with Judge Batterson with a view of seeing what was necessary under the law to make the change.

The first tank of oil from well on our Hell Creek lease was sold on Monday to the Pipe Line Company.

The contract for two wells will be closed in the next few days.

Prospects for some big producers look better daily.

There are about twelve machines now drilling on adjoining properties. That is what other companies, such as Batchelor Oil Co., Atlantic Refining Co. and Southern Oil Co., think of the district.

According to latest information, The Atlantic Refining Company is drilling two wells within two hundred feet of our lease. When these come in it will help Lane stock.

The present issue of 10c stock is practically sold out. Send your application in at once.

JUNE COURT DAY.

Yesterday was one of the dullest Court Days that has been experienced here for many months. As one farmer remarked: "Every farmer that is here to-day ought to be at home at work." There was very little stock of any kind on the market, only a few plugs changing hands at slow prices. Owing to the fact that the farmers were busy with their work, and the further fact that there were for the most part waiting for to-day, so as to get an excuse to come in to see the Gentry Bros.' show, the attendance was very light. Merchants reported a very small volume of business and collections slow.

HORSE AND BUGGY PLUNGE OVER EMBANKMENT.

A demolished buggy and a dead horse were found lying near an embankment in the rear of the Liggett & Myers tobacco plant on Barnes Avenue, Sunday morning, by the night watchman, as he was making his last rounds at the plant for the night.

When the horse went over the embankment, at which point there is a retaining wall six feet high, the buggy was upset and demolished and the horse was killed by the concussion, lighting on his head. It was stated yesterday that the outfit belonged to a man named George McIntyre, living on the Letton farm, on the Hume and Bedford pike, but this was not verified. The buggy was sent to the junk heap, being entirely out of commission. The body of the animal was removed and buried.

—During the absence of Rev. G. R. Combs, pastor of the Paris Methodist church, his pulpit was filled Sunday morning by his brother, Rev. Madison Combs, pastor of the Methodist church, at Clarkton, Mo. At the evening service Rev. Combs preached on the subject, "After Force, What?" Preceding the sermon the song, "The Ninety and Nine" was sung, and illustrated with stereopticon slides.

—Rev. R. C. Goldsmith and Mrs. Goldsmith, who have been spending a part of their vacation at Cumberland Falls, have returned. Rev. Goldsmith filled his pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday at both services. The revival services at this church began last night, conducted by Rev. Dr. B. B. Bailey, of Maysville, assisted by Rev. Goldsmith. Services will be held each afternoon and evening. The afternoon service will begin at three o'clock, the evening services at 7:30 o'clock.

Special music by a largely augmented choir will be a feature of the meetings. Dr. Bailey has the reputation of being one of the best and most eloquent divines in the Baptist church. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

—Children's Day exercises were held at several of the Paris churches Sunday. Special music by Captain Robert Harbison and sister, Miss Mary Dan Harbison, and a full choir, directed by Mr. Wilcox, had a prominent place on the program at the Presbyterian church. Recitations, songs and talks to the children made up the programs at all the churches. The program at the Presbyterian church was as follows:

Invocation.

Children's Day Exercises and Song of Welcome by Children from the Intermediate and primary grades.

"Our Day"—Recitation by six little boys and song of Primaries.

Recitations—"God's Plan," by Jesse Turney; "Trust Him," by Jack Brennan; Illustrated with song by Miss Harbison.

"Message of the Birds," by nine boys of the Primary Grade, and a song, "Bobolink," by Marjorie Trister and Rachel McClintock.

"Sunbeams and Smile and Be Cheerful"—Primary Grade.

Song, "A Sunbeam for Each Shadow"—Miss Harbison.

"Others," a lesson in service, consisting of songs and recitations by the older girls, with Miss Josephine Fithian and Miss Harbison.

"A Daisy Story," by eight little girls.

"Standard Bearers," a service by classes of Mrs. Willis, Miss Spears and Miss Marsh, and "Over The Top" our motto song by the school.

KENTUCKY FRUIT CROP TO BE BELOW NORMAL

Estimates of the year's fruit crop by Prof. F. J. Sutton, extension specialist in horticulture of the College of Agriculture, show that the western part of the State did not suffer as much from the frost as the Eastern and Central parts.

Professor Sutton has recently returned from a trip into the western part of Kentucky and from a conference in Cincinnati with representatives of Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio, and his estimates show that the crop for the whole State will be below normal. In the home orchards of the western end of the State the crop of peaches and apples will be about 75 to 100 per cent. normal. In this part of the State the cherry crop has not been injured by frost as badly as it has here and in the eastern part.

The apple crop in home orchards of the eastern and central section will produce from 50 to 60 per cent. of the normal crop, according to the estimate. Peaches here are uncertain, and no accurate estimate can be formed. It is added that these percentages are prone to advance and not to decrease, so that the crops mentioned may be larger than the estimates indicated.

Berries in Kentucky suffered less because of the frost than the larger fruits. In the Bowling Green berry section, where approximately 85 per cent. of the crop is raised, the crop will produce near 60 per cent. of the normal. Around Paducah where 10 per cent. of the whole crop of the State is produced, the same estimate holds.

Blackberries will be a banner crop according to all indications. The woods are full of blossoms and lately reports from sections where the berries grow wild, indicate that the crop will be large.

SWEEPING CHANGES PROPOSED IN REVENUE DISTRICTS

Sweeping reorganization of the internal revenue service, which will affect the States of Kentucky, Ohio and Illinois, is being evolved by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. It is expected that the President will approve it and will make it operative through the medium of an executive order.

Under the proposed plan the Clumbus revenue district in Ohio will be merged with the Cincinnati revenue district and the collectors office at Columbus will be abolished, Cincinnati having been slated as headquarters for the new district.

Elwood Hamilton, Collector for the Lexington District; General Percy Haley, of Frankfort, Ky., and others, have been in Washington during the last few days in consultation with bureau officials in regard to the plan which provides for the abolishment of four of the five internal revenue collection districts in Kentucky, and the entire State is to be included in one district, with headquarters in Louisville.

The State is to be divided for revenue collection purposes into 14 sub-districts, so that persons who have taxes to pay will find a revenue officer within easy reach.

HIGH COST OF LIVING NOT EXPECTED TO DROP.

Prices may not be expected to drop much in the near future, according to indications of reports reaching the Federal Reserve Board, at Washington. The Reserve Board's bulletin for May says that apparently the business community has given up the thought it may probably await a further considerable reduction in prices and is now contenting itself with the development of trade along lines dependent upon at least the temporary maintenance of existing levels.

Though prices of a few commodities have fallen slightly these declines have not yet been effected in retail prices, says the review.

"What is now happening," it adds, "seems to indicate that business will after a period of initial readjustment in prices, proceed upon a level not far removed from that established during the war."

PRESBYTERIANS WOULD GIVE WOMEN RIGHT TO BE MINISTERS.

Recommendations to grant women full equality in church affairs, including the right to become ministers and elders were contained in overtures presented to the one hundred and thirty-first general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America in session at St. Louis this week.

The report of the department of information laid before the commissioners recommends that all Presbyterian churches in the country "engage in paid newspaper advertising as one aid in advancing the cause of Christ in the world."

STATE HEALTH BOARD ORDERS CANDLING OF EGGS.

The recent order of the State Board of Health requiring the candling of eggs in Kentucky between May 15 and January 15 of each year went into effect Thursday. The order says that between May 15 and January 15 of each year all eggs in the market, or intended for market, shall be handled only on a candling basis and no payment either in cash or merchandise shall be made for eggs unfit for food.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

The unsightly holes and broken places in city pavements at the bases of telephone and telegraph poles, and at other places throughout the city, have been refilled with concrete, and made presentable. Now if the telephone and telegraph people will cooperate with the city in having the poles painted, it will be a move that will add greatly to the appearance of Paris.

FOLKS are a heap like tobacco. Thar's hot-headed, bitey folks. Thar's flat, uninterestin' folks. An' then thar's folks like Velvet—mild, but hearty an' fren'ly, too.

Velvet Joe

Velvet!

THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

"Friendly" is a very good word to describe the positively pleasing quality that sets VELVET tobacco apart.

There is that indescribable something about VELVET that is associated in men's minds with the thought of a friend.

It is a satisfying smoke—never harsh; without a bite. Like a friend it "agrees" with you no matter how much you use it.

Long, patient aging—in wooden hogsheads—does it. Friendship must ripen slowly. Good tobacco the same way. An army of men have learned this through VELVET.

Today is a good time to get a lot of comfort out of a pipeful of friendly VELVET.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IN WAR AND PEACE!

The Liberty Loan drives, the Red Cross drives, the various war charities were made successful with the aid of newspaper advertising.

Nothing else would have aroused the people so quickly.

No means of communication with the masses of the people would have been so prompt and so low in cost.

To-day newspaper advertising is helping bring the world back to balance.

It is opening the natural channels of commerce, starting the mines and mills and opening jobs for the returning soldiers.

LAME BACK RELIEVED.

For a lame back apply Chamberlain's Liniment twice a day and massage the muscles of the back over the seat of pain thoroughly at each application.

THE Titan 10-20 has been on the market for years, and has made good without reservation. 10 horsepower at the draw bar—20 horsepower at the belt.

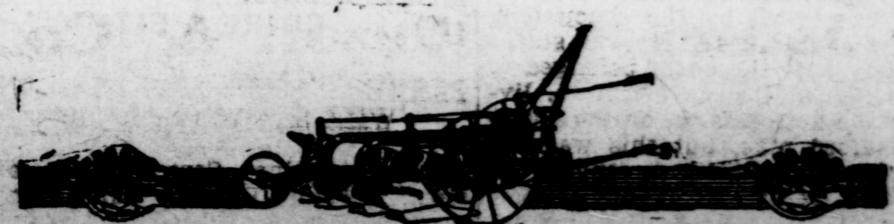

A well-balanced tractor that is suited to all farm power work. It drives easily, affords maximum pulling power for its weight, and is suited in every way to the general run of farm work. Not too large for the small farm, yet large enough to handle a great volume of work.

Use it with an Oliver Plow—

We recommend that you use an Oliver plow with your Titan tractor because it means the best plowing under all conditions. The combined rolling coulter and jointer bevels all trash and weeds at the bottom of the furrow; the stop device maintains an even depth of furrow; the plow points enter and leave the ground first, making it possible to plow clear to the ends of the field; and the trip rope control operates easily from the driver's seat on the tractor.

We have a full line of Oliver plows as well as the Titan tractor here at our salesroom.

NOTES OF THE COMING SALVATION ARMY DRIVE.

KENTUCKY'S HONORED DEAD.

Sunday, June 15, will be Salvation Army Sunday in the churches of the Bluegrass section and every pastor in every church of the county is being supplied with interesting material concerning the war work of the Salvation Army lassies in France. No collections will be made in the churches, but every pastor who has had brought home to him a realization of just what the cheery faces of the girls in the blue bonnets who carried steaming pitchers of coffee and other comforts to thousands of soldiers standing knee deep in the mud of the trenches of France, will gladly bring the matter of the Salvation Army's Home Service work before his people.

Mrs. Arch Pool, wife of the Managing Editor of the State Journal, at Frankfort, Kentucky, is the chairwoman of the Woman's Committee for Frankfort, and is doing splendid work in bringing the women together and properly organizing them for the campaign. Mrs. Pool is working with Charles F. Strasser, chairman, and Tom P. Rodgers, vice-chairman, with the "Gogetter" Club of that city, which will be in active charge of the campaign. Franklin county will raise $5,000 for the Salvation Army Campaign. The Board of Commerce of Frankfort stands firmly back of the Campaign Committee and its new secretary, A. Cyrus Wall, will act as secretary of the Campaign Committee.

A. Hancock and James McClure, of the First National Bank, of Paris, are the leading spirits back of the organization of the Salvation Army Campaign in Paris, and under the leadership of these two splendid generals, the War Work Committee, which has done wonderful things during the entire duration of the war under Mr. Hancock's leadership, will be lined up once more in the interests of the men and women, who to carry creature comforts to wounded soldiers in No Man's Land, faced the enemy fire thousands of times, when doing so seemed to mean, and often did mean, death.

S. B. Mexley, of Shelbyville, is issuing invitations for a dinner conference on Friday evening, June 6, when a number of prominent citizens have been invited to meet Miss Anne Coughane, Director Blue Grass Section Salvation Army Campaign, and Brigadier Dunham, of Cincinnati, who will tell of the Salvation Army's work in France and its plans for the future.

B. R. Jouett, of Winchester, is in active charge of the organization of the Salvation Army Campaign forces in Winchester. Miss Coughane will be the speaker at conference now arranged for early next week, when the leading citizens of Winchester will hear of the work and the plan of the campaign.

HELP THE SALVATION ARMY

June 23 to 30 there will be conducted in Kentucky a campaign for the Home Service work of the Salvation Army of America, that magnificent organization which has covered itself with glory and honor in its work with the American troops at the front in Europe. Wherever the "doughnut lassies" have been the story of their unselfish devotion is the same, from general to private soldier, for they treated all alike.

The big work of the Salvation Army in France is done. In view of what that organization accomplished, it might be expected now to rest from its labors for a while. But it is plunging right in on a campaign for home work, and in preparation for it is asking the nation to contribute a fund of $12,000,000, and Kentucky must and will do her share.

There should be no question of raising this money. Anybody who knows the record of the Army in France will be glad to contribute his bit. That record, as most people realize, was not by any means confined to the distribution of doughnuts, though the importance of that particular service need not be minimized.

The loyal men and women shirked no duty and evaded no danger. They ministered to body and soul, and did it so unobtrusively and efficiently that one may search through all the comment on their war activity, from all sources, and find nothing but appreciative praise.

There is still some work for them to do in France, more for them to do in America and in Kentucky. Their plans for providing substitutes for city saloons are receiving much attention just now, and there are other important tasks. Their past achievement is sufficient guarantee that they will give at least as much benefit for $12,000,000 as the nation has any right to expect.

THE LUXURY TAX.

It is natural enough for mechanics to kick about the new "luxury tax," now in effect. The tax makes troublesome bookkeeping and probably puts an artificial restriction on the sale of certain kinds of goods. But the general public is not kicking much, and in fact, is not greatly interested in the matter.

The reason is simple enough. It is not excessive patriotism. Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen do not like to pay taxes any better than anybody else. But in this case they don't have to pay the taxes.

We respectfully submit that this hypothetical average family is not given, even in era of war incomes, to paying more than $2 apiece for neckties, more than $3 apiece for shirts, more than $10 apiece for shoes or picture frames, more than $4 for parasols or umbrellas, more than $25 for woman's hats, more than $7.50 for purses, more than $50 for trunks.

This being the case, the tax is demonstrable what it professes to be—a "luxury tax." It may be annoying, unjustly discriminatory, etc., but it has the saving democratic merit that nobody has to pay unless he feels rich enough to afford it.

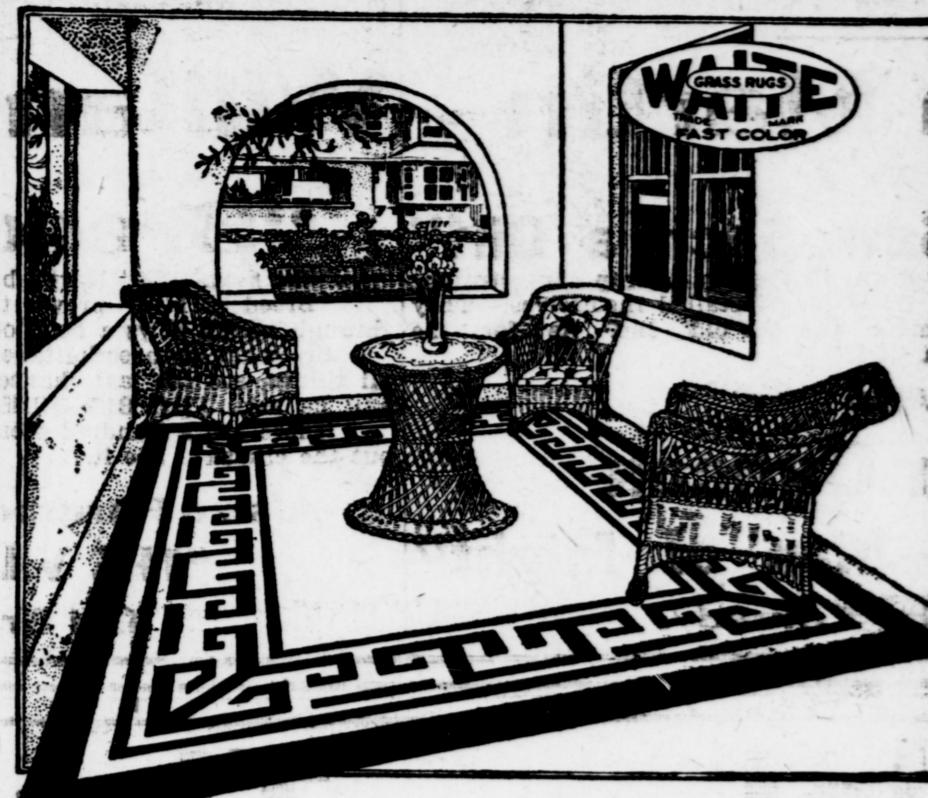

PIG WAS IN DITCH.

It was not the ox in the ditch of which the scripture tells; but a fine pig that worried one of Kentucky's live county agents. In sending in a report he had the following to say about this pig which caused much trouble in a rural church:

"Another very unusual duty asked of me this week was to use my influence to prevent one of my good farmers from being turned out of the church for buying a pair of Jou Orion 2nd pigs on Sunday for a couple of hundred dollars."

FISH BOILED IN MISSOURI STREAM.

The breakage of an oil line in Missouri has caused thousands of fish to die, cattle to go without water, corn fields to be ruined and general consternation in the South Central portions of this State along the Missouri River.

The pipe line carries oil from the Oklahoma and Kansas fields to the refineries in Indiana. It seems to have a way of breaking at spots. The result is that the oil seeks the low places, gets into the creeks, smothers the fish and keeps the stock from drinking. When the pipe bursts in a corn field there is havoc. Farmers try to burn the oil off the streams that stock may drink. This burning often cooks the fish, for the fire from oil is fierce. Clay bluffs have been baked up to a height of twenty-five feet. In the end burning does little good, for the sides of the creek are saturated with oil and the next rise taints the water.

Fish in the Missouri River have been tainted by oil and people who buy fresh fish from those streams near St. Louis, was covered with oil from burst pipe recently, fish destroyed and wild ducks driven from their usual haunts. The Gasconade River, one of the larger streams, has nearly been cleared of fish by the oil.

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercises, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.

Mrs. H. C. Parvin, of Clintonville; four half-brothers, Frank, Abram and Bunt Buchanan, of Clintonville, and John Buchanan, of Waterville, Washington.

HOLLIDAY.

The funeral of Mr. George W. Morrow, aged seventy-six, one of the best-known residents of Bourbon county, who died at his home near Clintonville, about noon Friday of Bright's disease, was held at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, with services conducted at the grave in the Clintonville Cemetery by Rev. Newton Shropshire. The honorary pall-bearers were his former comrades in the Confederate army. The active pall-bearers were George Estes, Dan W. Peed, George W. Dawson, B. M. Renick, Frank Buchanan and Edward Weathers.

Mr. Morrow was one of the most gallant members of the Confederate army and gave distinguished service to the Lost Cause during the four years in which he wore the grey uniform of the Confederacy. He enlisted at the beginning of the war and served throughout to the end, being a member of Company D, Eighth Cavalry, commanded by Col. Roy Cluke, in General John H. Morgan's brigade. He was twice wounded in action. He was an uncompromising Democrat and stood high in the councils of that party, being at one time Chairman of the Bourbon County Democratic Committee, and always one of the most loyal workers. For many years he represented the Clintonville precinct as Magistrate in the Bourbon County Fiscal Court.

Mr. Morrow is survived by three daughters, Mrs. John Marders, of Chataville; Mrs. Anna McWhorter, of Lexington; and Mrs. Frank Donaldson, of Hamden, Ohio; one sister, Mrs. Anna E. Peebles, of Lexington; Mrs. Nellie Valentine, of New York; Mrs. Geo. W. Judy, Misses Emma and Carrie Holliday, of Paris; and two brothers, Albert Holliday, of Chicago, and Will Holliday, of Pawtucket, Rhode Island.

The pall-bearers were James D. McLintock, Walter Davis, Charles Whaley, A. B. Lovell, Harry O. James and Wm. F. Talbot.
